1 INTRODUCTION

Figure 1 was automatically generated using `showyourwork` with minimal instructions from the user. By labeling the figure with `\label{fig:mandelbrot}`, the user informs `showyourwork` that there exists a script in the `figures` directory called `mandelbrot.py` that generates the figure files included within that figure environment. This behavior can be changed or overridden by specifying custom rules in the `Snakefile`.
